Spring Garden Fling 2011

Spring is a magical time of year when we shrug off the dark, chill days of winter and anticipate the return of our gardens. The bulbs we planted the previous fall will soon emerge to delight us.

In 2011 NPA will again hold a Spring Garden Fling. We are looking for gardens, created by our members, that welcome the season with colorful bulbs and early spring perennials. Many of you have told us you have such a garden and would enjoy opening it for other members. Now is the time to step forward and make that offer.

The gardens will be open over a period of three weekends and will be arranged by area: *
Seattle area/Eastside gardens will open the weekend of April 9 & 10;
South Sound gardens will open Saturday, April 16; and Snohomish County/Whidbey Island gardens will open Saturday, April 23.

NPA will mail the garden names, locations, and driving directions in March, 2011.

Tours in the yellow Open Gardens directory will not start until May, 2011.
